

Happy Endings... Spring has Sprung!

It must be spring, piglets, piglets everywhere! As you've probably already heard, one of the "foreclosure" rescue pigs just gave birth May 13th, a pair of pigs at a "sanctuary" are due to give birth any day now! Obviously, Spring has SPRUNG! Fortunately for these two piglets, their unfortunate start in life, landed them wonderful homes with wonderful people! The first piglet (top) now named Mystic Pig (or Misty for short) since she has the most beautiful blue eyes, was found in the desert, skinny and dehydrated. After a week of "lost pig postings" and no one to claim her, the family handed her over to VegasPigPets to place. We got her to the vet to make sure she was ready for a home and got her staples removed from her spay. But, we already had families waiting for piglets so it wasn't hard to find a good home for a piglet! Audrey and family took one look at her and knew she was the one! She has settled in, looking for love anywhere she can get it, even with the grand baby! She snuggles up and sleeps with the dogs and gets regular walks with her little harness and leash. She has obviously taken over the household so maybe her name should have been Queen Pig! Thank you Audrey and family for taking in such a special little girl!

Rebel, now named Daisy, also got off to a rough start. Rescued by a dog rescue group, she kept throwing up after eating and soon Marlies of Pigharmony was called to take over. Marlies took her in, so tiny, so lovable and hand fed her every hour so as not to feed her too much so that she could keep her food down! She was doing quite well unless she ate too much or too fast. We put the word out that this special girl needed a home, but not just any home, a home that could handle a special needs piglet! Up to the plate, Jill and Dan came, offering to take her in. This little girl had a lot of personality but needed patience and that is what Dan and Jill had to offer! Fortunately, Daisy will get a lot of love while she's with them, but unfortunately, Daisy may have a genetic condition that doesn't allow her to swallow properly. This will shorten her life considerably, but for the time she does have, she will be the so loved! Thank you Dan & Jill for what you're doing for this special little piglet, all the people involved in getting this pig from death's door to you, Thank You!

Last but not least, this May has been a busy month for adoptions! Babe, a 5 year old un-neutered male needed a home as his dad died year or so back and no one in the house could handle him. He is a very large, somewhat overweight male but can be oh so sweet. Well, Kelly had been contemplating adding a pig to her household of horses and dogs. We went to see him and decided to give him a second chance. We, VPPs, didn't feel it was in his best interest to neuter him there as he was on plain dirt and his pen wasn't cleaned daily, so we transported him to his new home and his neuter will be setup for next week, which will get rid of his "hormonal" behavior problems! Thank you Kelly, for stepping up to give this sweet guy a second chance!
